The 1984 INSIGHTS staff would like to salute the administrators and students of the past who worked to promote and enhance our chosen profession of optometry. Their endeavors can be traced in the rich history of this institution. It is this spirit of striving for excellence and setting increasingly more challenging goals for ourselves and our profession that we would like to recognize. We challenge the students of the present and the future to continue this heritage and place our optometric profession at the forefront of primary health care.

A Memorable Heritage

ICO boasts a rich and memorable heritage: that of 112 years of clinical service to the Optometric profession. Dr. Henry Olin, an ocularist and aurist founded the Chicago College of Ophthalmology and Otology in 1872 before Optometry even became an independent entity. Located at 240 W. Madison St., the college admitted physicians wishing to specialize in these disciplines.

The college was renamed the Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology and Otology in 1891, moved to the Masonic Temple Building at 159 N. State St., and offered a 10-week correspondence course for physicians.

It wasn't until 1898 that refracting opticians gained entry to the college. Dispensing opticians, in those days, filled the ocularists' prescriptions; refracting opticians concerned themselves with conducting vision examinations and dispensing glasses (Otology was no longer offered).

A $25 tuition fee in 1907 permitted a student to complete a 6-week correspondence course or a 4-week classroom course after which the degree of Dr. of Optics would be conferred. Upon the completion of two additional weeks of classroom study the Bachelor of Ophthalmology degree would be awarded.

The first optometric institution, the Needles Institute of Optometry, was founded by Dr. William Bray Needles in Kansas City. After purchasing the Northern Illinois College in 1922, he attempted to upgrade the curriculum. It was possible to attain the degree of Doctor of Optometry following completion of a 2-year program.

In 1926 the Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology and Otology and the Needles Institute of Optometry consolidated into the Northern Illinois College of Optometry. Located at Drexel Boulevard, the 12,000 square foot facility included nine lecture rooms and ten examination rooms. It was the largest optometric institution in the country and concurrently tuition was increased to $225 per year.

Having become a non-profit institution in 1927, the curriculum was expanded to a 3-year program. In 1938 the Northern Illinois College of Optometry was expanded to a 4-year program and became accredited by the AOA's Council on Optometric Education. During the same year, the Monroe College of Optometry at Adams and Wabash was founded. It offered a 4-year program leading to a Doctor of Optometry degree, and was open to high school graduates. However, it was necessary in 1942 to consolidate the 4-year course into a 2-year course with summer sessions to comply with the war effort.

In 1948 the Monroe College became the Chicago College of Optometry with facilities located in the Lincoln Park area and clinics in the Loop and South side. It offered a 4-year program of pre-optometry and professional study with a fixed tuition of $640 per year.

In 1955, because of administrative and financial difficulties a merger between NICO and CCO was formed, and the Illinois College of Optometry was born! Dr. Glenn Moore of NICO became the first chairman of the ICO Board of Trustees. Dr. E. Strawn of CCO became the first ICO president, and Dr. E. R. Tennant served as clinic director. One year later, Dr. Alfred A. Rosenbloom was appointed Dean and initiated an extensive institutional reorganization. His efforts resulted in a 4-year professional curriculum by 1967 with subsequent accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

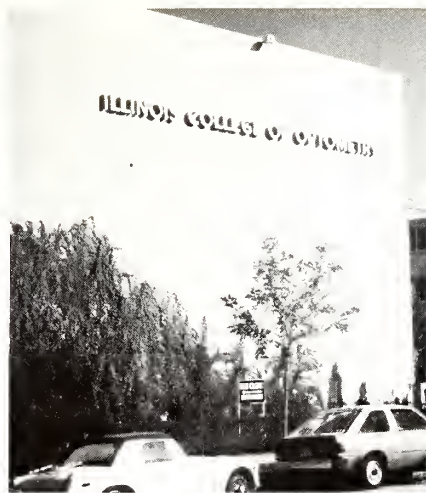

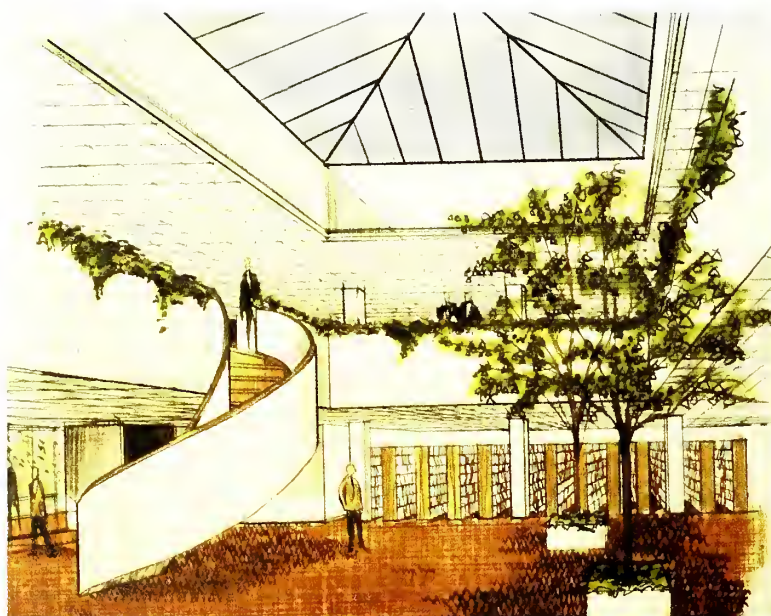

By 1964, Brady Hall was completed at a cost of $825,000. This was just the beginning! In 1969 additions of 35,000 square feet were completed at a cost of $2,750,000. A teaching and research wing housing the specialty clinics enveloped the original building. The Carl F. Shepard Library and the Eugene W. Strawn Clinic were included in this new addition.

Dr. Alfred Rosenbloom became President of the college in 1972 following the demise of Dr. Eugene Strawn.

In 1982, our latest building project was initiated to include a 50,000 square-foot library and a lecture center big enough to seat the entire student body.

In 1983, Boyd Banwell was inaugurated as the third President of ICO. Previously Dr. Banwell practiced optometry in the state of Michigan where he was an active lobbyist for optometric legislation.

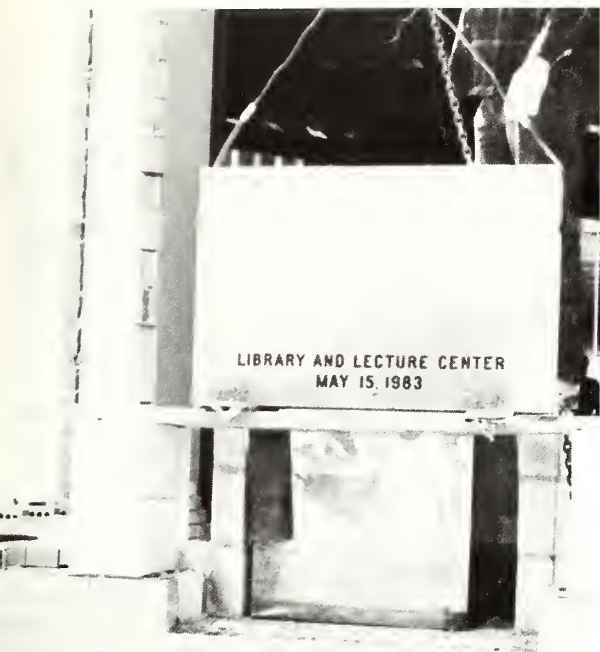

In 1984 we look forward to the long awaited completion of our new building facilities. The future brings plans of Chicago and ICO hosting the 1986 AOSA convention, hopes of ICO becoming the "Flagship" Optometric Institution, and leading the field of Optometry to new heights of excellence.

The 1984 Graduating Class of the Illinois College of Optometry has witnessed numerous changes during their four years as students. The changes made at ICO have been made for the improvement of the physical facilities and the quality of education each student receives. These changes were designed to instill a sense of pride in the individual as a professional so he or she can establish prestige within the community in which he or she lives and practices.

As Optometrists, we must be aware of and willing to change with the times in order to succeed within the profession, as well as life itself. It is my hope that along with the scientific education and professional knowledge you have obtained at ICO, you have also learned more about the world today. Life as a student is not always easy; however, I hope your trials have been a preparation for tomorrow as you leave behind your educational setting. I extend my sincere best wishes to you as Doctors of Optometry, Alumni and friends. It is my hope that you will continue to give your Alma Mater your suggestions and support throughout your career. Congratulations!

Boyd B. Banwell, O.D., D.O.S.
President

The demands and challenges of the optometric curriculum can cause stress and fatigue. As the Class of 1984 complete the requirements for the Doctor of Optometry degree, I trust that the satisfaction gained from a job well done over shadows any negative emotions. My desire, as Dean, is that the basic optometric skills taught at ICO prove to be an adequate foundation for your professional growth. I wish the best to each member of the Class of 1984 as you embark on your exciting career.

CLASS OF 1984

Well, we finally made it! It is hard to believe it has been four years since we first sat at a 45 angle staring down at Dr. Wodis. Oh boy, have we progressed! Not it is time for the ICO Class of 1984 to move on; to fulfill its goals and ambitions; and to progress even further. Looking back, we have shared many transitions, policies, and memos together; some good, some bad, and some ugly, however, we all survived. As we glance through these pages in the future, we must not dwell on the negative of the past, but rekindle fond memories of all the positive experiences, good times, and good friends. Collectively, the Class of '84 has left a major impression on the ICO community, and we would like to thank all of our fellow classmates for their individual contributions. These past four years have been an experience we undoubtedly will never forget. The best of success to everyone and hey . . . hey, let's be professional out there!

Thanks mom and dad — I couldn't have made it this far without your love and support. You're the greatest!

To Rick and Pam — having an older brother and sister to rely on really helps.

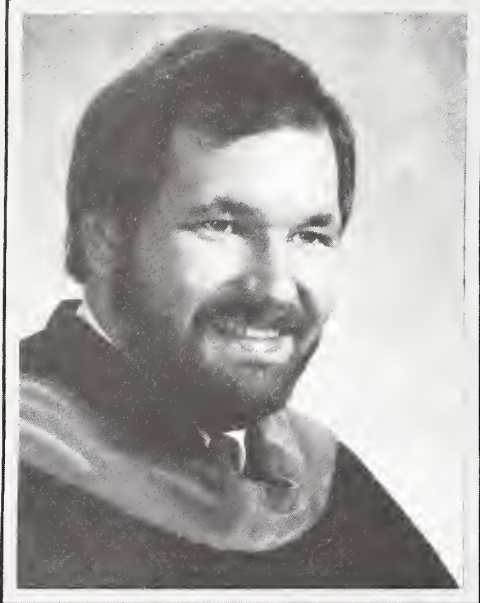

I want to wish everyone in the class of '84 the best of luck in the future.

Dear Gilbert,

The Admissions Committee has carefully reviewed your application file. I am sorry to inform you that we did not approve your admission for the September, 1980 class of Illinois College of Optometry. This decision is based on many factors, since this institution seeks to make the most thorough assessment in selecting those individuals who appear most likely to succeed in professional study. These criteria include not only academic work, but also achievement, potential, motivation, recommendations, and a comparison with other well qualified applicants seeking admission.

Thank you for making application to our College. We wish you success in whatever plans you make for the future.

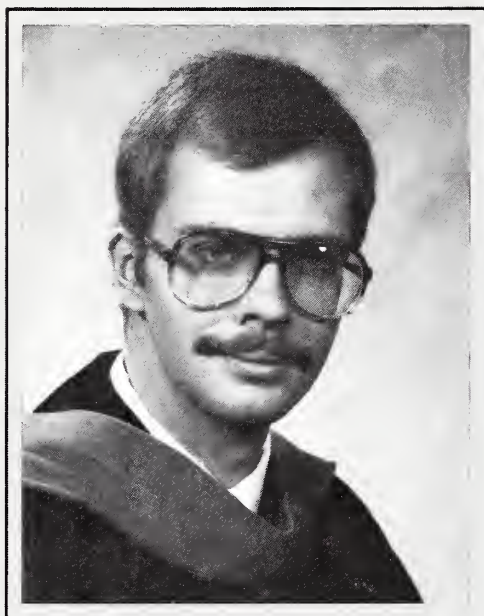

Sincerely,

Greg Pably

As I look back on my life, one of the most constant and powerful things I have experienced within myself is the desire to be more than I am at the moment — an unwillingness to let myself remain where I am — a desire to increase the boundaries of myself — a desire to do more, learn more, express more — a desire to grow, improve, accomplish, expand. At this time I want to say "Thank You" to everyone that has helped me do all of these things. You all have made my four years at ICO some of the best and most memorable times of my life. May your futures be filled with much happiness and success.

My days at ICO began just one week after I had tied the knot with my wife Bridget. And these four years at ICO have been some honeymoon! We've learned a lot besides optometry since the move to Chicago. We now know how to search for and destroy the amazing cockroach, a skill we have had plenty of experience. We also experienced the birth of our son, Benjamin. He keeps us busy when we are not learning surviving tactics at ICO and Michael Reese Hospital (the source of Bridget's paycheck, and there ICO's tuition).

Besides keeping my wife happy and my son busy, I've also tried to participate in the following activities: Tomb and Key, Beta Sigma Kappa, Omega Delta, Phi Theta Upsilon, and Contact Lens Society.

Taking everything into account, I guess it hasn't been that bad. And how many people can say they had a four year honeymoon on the south side of Chicago!

What is there in this role of life,
Half so delightful as a wife,
When friendship, love and peace combine
To stay the marriage bond divine?

— Special thanks and love to Karole

I came to Chicago a little uncertain of what the four years might bring
I needed and wanted a lasting profession
Optometry had a nice ring
I made new friends that are old friends now, and we trudged through the halls
everyday
El rides to Streeters, boards, breaks, and clinic,
and road trips passed time away.
But now I've stumbled upon yet another crossroad
and the signs at this one read clear,
Go to work, get a job, find employment,
the party's over . . . persevere
And so my friends, I leave you with this on our graduation day
If you don't dance, you'll poop your pants.
That's all I have to say!

Thanks to parents for their support and help. Most of all — Thanks to God for providing for me while I was here.

Romans 8:31-39

What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us? He who did not spare His own son, but delivered Him up for us all, how will He not also with Him freely give us all things? For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CLASS OF 1987

The ICO class of 1987 is a large group of diversified students. A group of varying nationalities, backgrounds, ideals, hopes, and dreams. It is encouraging to see such a varied group of people come together so quickly to work toward a common goal. That goal being not only to become caring, competent, professional optometrists, but also to experience all aspects of Chicago, the faculty, and the multitude of offerings encompassed in the environment here at ICO. We see our class with the opportunity to achieve these goals in our own unique way. We have enjoyed working with all the other classes. We have certainly learned a lot from you. For that we thank you. We would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate and extend warm wishes for the future to the graduating class — the ICO class of 1984.

CLASS OF 1986

The 1983-1984 year has been a rapidly changing period for the second year class. It has integrated clinical skills and academic requirements. While we continue to enjoy the social opportunities at ICO our class has many diverse personalities who share the common interest of optometry and are proud to be part of this growing health care profession.

CLASS OF 1985

The class of 1985 has made the move into patient care with few problems. We have finally completed a year long project of designing and producing the ICO nearpoint cards. We have also had our share of problems this year, but these have only helped to pull our class together. Hopefully the coming year will be just as exciting and productive.

The Michigan Club is the newest of the Illinois College of Optometry's state organizations. After being conspicuously absent for the past few years, the club has been reorganized, and consists of students from Michigan as well as those with an interest in practicing in Michigan.

Our members are kept informed of optometrically related events occurring in Michigan. We have been active in conjunction with the Michigan Optometric Association in lobbying the Michigan legislature to change its health code to allow the use of DPAs by optometrists.

Events sponsored this year included lectures on effective lobbying, a visit to the Auto Show at McCormick Place, a ski trip, a Beatles party, and various other social events. The enthusiasm of our members and excellent attendance at our functions, has proven to us that the reorganization of the club was more than worthwhile. The joint efforts of our members have helped to make the club a success. Our motto: "Say yes to Michigan."

Let Us Help You Begin Your New Practice

The Bausch & Lomb New Practitioner Program

Congratulations Doctors! We hope to be your partner in eye care for years to come.

We know that having large fitting sets of contact lenses can give a new practice a big boost. However, acquiring the many types of lenses that are required to satisfy the vision requirements of your patients can be very costly. That is why we offer new practitioners a special no-cost trial lens program for our most popular lenses.

It's a combination program featuring consignments of Bausch & Lomb SOFLENS (polymacon) Contact Lenses (including bifocal lenses) and a SAMPLER set of BAUSCH & LOMB (hefilcon B) Toric Contact Lenses and BAUSCH & LOMB CW79 (lidofilcon B) Contact Lenses for aphakia. Here is how this program works.

After graduation you may receive on consignment your first 24 standard spherical lenses and your first 24 bifocal lenses for no charge. Plus, we will send you our SAMPLER set of 24 Toric lenses and 10 CW79 lenses for aphakic extended wear for a six-month trial. At the end of six months, you can either buy the SAMPLER lenses at a reduced cost or return them without charge. You enjoy free use of the lenses with no financial risk.

This program provides you a total of 82 lenses for your new practice.

Additional lenses may be consigned for a small one time fee. You may participate in the Bausch & Lomb New Practitioner Program any time during the first 24 months after you graduate. Or, if you enter the military service after graduation, you'll be eligible for the program for 24 months after you leave the service.

When you're ready to begin your practice, call us, toll-free, at 800-828-9030. (In New York 800-462-1720, in Alaska and Hawaii 800-828-6291).

We'll have a Bausch & Lomb Professional Products sales representative contact you with all the details.
